

critically acclaimed debut album, Poinciana (2014). Expanding on the territory covered on the previous outing, the music presented on But Not For Me is an adaptation of Jamal's classic arrangements, some adhered to more closely than others, allowing for the influence of their own individual personalities to shine through. With one of Norway's leading jazz guitarists, Bjørn Vidar Solli, the Italy-based Australian drummer, Adam Pache, on board this trio is at once elegant and gritty with its approach to the chosen repertoire: a fine tribute to one of the most important piano trios in the history of jazz.

But Not For Me is comprised of music inspired by the great pianist, Ahmad Jamal, and his highly personal arrangements of popular jazz standards, recorded between 1958 and 1961 with his celebrated trio, featuring Israel Crosby on bass and Vernel Fournier on drums. This legendary group was known for its elegant, swinging music, with phrasing and harmony stemming out of the bebop era, though they were also innovative and original with their sound and concept for the piano trio setting. Bassist Andreas Dreier has brought his trio together again for this record, on the heels of their
